My work objective is understanding how network link analysis is used to identify corruption.
Core Knowledge Acquisition
Study graph theory and data skills
Research organizations and the methods they use to uncover data
Learn about real examples of network link analysis being used
Real World Practice
Build a graph networking a local official and their affiliations
Join a local investigative journalism group
Obtain an internship or research assistant position that investigate corruption
General Industry Awareness
Stay updated on investigations and the methods used in them
Envision the relevant career path for this
Track technology used in investigating corruption